Declaration of Non-Use of Persistent Organic Pollutants (POPS)
As defined in Regulation EU2023/1021

The aim of this regulation is to protect human health and the environment by eliminating, or restricting the production and use of persistent organic pollutants (POPs) as defined in the Stockholm Convention on Persistent Organic Pollutants or the Protocol to the 1979 Convention on Long-Range Transboundary Air Pollution on Persistent Organic Pollutants. It seeks to minimise, or eliminate where possible, releases of such substances, and regulate waste containing or contaminated by them.

The group of pollutants are highly persistent and toxic chemicals that can only be disposed of via licenced Companies and must not be sent to landfill.

Euroquartz Ltd are aware of the regulation and can declare that to our knowledge none of these pollutants are present in our product.

Yours Sincerely

Andy Treble
Director
